Cyberspace vs. COVID-19 – American Cowardice

We see the so-called tough folks in rural areas – who make claims of being the folks that work hard to make things work – complaining about the horrors of shelter in place. Led by folks from Cambridge Analytica and the Russian propaganda machine, they come to protest policies designed to save peoples' lives.

And they are cowards

How brave do you have to be to stay at home instead of going to the bar or game or park?

- People around the world are in war-torn areas, are living in squalor, are unable to get safe food or clean water, and don't have any medical care at all. They are subject to COVID-19 spreading unchecked except for their governments that at times force them to lock down while providing limited minimal food and limited health care.
- People protesting in the US live in homes with yards or apartments with clean water, food delivery services, working bathrooms, places to go for a walk with their loved ones, entertainment fed into their living quarters, and medical services over the Internet or in person when called for.

How weak are you if you cannot tolerate a few weeks or months at home?

Cowardice in the face of the enemy

The President declared that this is a war against COVID-19 and the people who live here soldiers in that war.

- And in this war, you are unwilling to merely not get other people sick and keep yourself and your family safe?
- The penalty for cowardice as a soldier in a war is death.

The penalty for your misbehavior in the face of COVID-19 may indeed be death – if not your death, your family members. That's cowardice.

Bravery

The people who work in a grocery store are brave. They know that they are there for hour after hour facing disease and death because you are irresponsible and unwilling to put on a mask for the 15 minutes you spend in the store.

The postal workers who handle thousands of pieces of mail every day are at risk from every single item that could have viruses on them. And they walk up to your house or your neighborhood to deliver your mail and food and drink.

The medical teams who are trying to save lives and cannot get adequate protective gear are brave. And some of you treat them as if they were the problem.

The law enforcement officers who try to keep you safe and end up face to face touching criminals and miscreants who spit in their faces are brave. They know what they are facing every day and keep coming back to protect and serve you and all of us.

Female led New Zealand can do it – and the home of the brave US patriots cannot?

For anyone that thinks they are being macho or strong or somehow standing up for freedom, you are not.

- You are standing up for stupidity, which you have a right to be.
- But you don't have a right to endanger me or my family.
- And it's child abuse to bring the disease back to your children and elder abuse to take it back to your elders.

Are you so afraid and weak that you cannot do as well as New Zealand?

- They are killing the virus instead of having the virus kill them!
- And they are doing it by cooperating and following the lead of their President.

It's the economy stupid!

But what about all that money we are spending / losing?

- The wealthy big companies and friends of the President are doing just fine.
- They were bailed out and took much of the first few trillion dollars doled out.

And in case you wanted to know, opening up the economy by getting more people sick and dead will NOT help the economy.

- Millions of sick people cost more than millions of well people who contribute.
- Millions of people with lifelong care issues related to the residual effect of recovered victims cost a lot more than a few month of lost labor.
- Hundreds of thousands or millions of dead people no longer contribute to the economy.

But what about my job!

Welcome to the land of the free and the home of the brave.

- You can be brave and find a way to survive for a few months if you can help all of us kill the virus off like they are doing in New Zealand.
- Or you can be a coward and go out and get yourself and/or others sick and keep the virus going and end up out of work for years.
- You are free to choose what you want for yourself and your country.
  - You are free to follow the propagandists and destroy our country.
    - But you won't be free for long if you cannot be brave enough to protect your family from COVID-19.
- You are free to be brave instead of acting brave, and support the truly brave folks risking their lives to help save our lives.

Conclusions

Get yourself into your home, and stop being an asshole having a conniption fit over spending a few weeks or months at home with your family because of Russian propaganda.
